CHARLOTTESVILLE.

Reception Tendered Miss Mildred Lee—Heavy Suits.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October 16.—(Special.)—The Daughters of the Confederacy have tendered Miss Mildred Lee a reception, which she will, no doubt, accept.

The Young Men's Christian Association of the University gave a reception in the Fayerweather gymnasium this evening. Addresses were delivered by the president and others. Refreshments were served.

A special jury has been summoned in the Circuit Court for next Monday to try the following suits for damages:

E. C. Tucker's Administrator vs. the Manhattan Concrete Company, of New York, for $10,000.

E. H. Bunch's Administrator vs. the same, for $10,000.

V. W. Chambers vs. the same for $5,000.

Joseph M. Lamb vs. the same for $5,000.

L. D. Bowen vs. the same for $5,000.

These suits grow out of the collapse last October of the roof of the north terrace lecture-room of the University, by which two men—Tucker and Bunch—were killed and three injured.

George Perkins, Micajah Woods, J. Samuel McCue, and Frank Gilmer are attorneys for the plaintiffs, while the Hon. John B. Moon represents the University of Virginia and Mr. Daniel Harmon the Manhattan Concrete Company. Over fifty witnesses have been summoned.

The Pantops Academy foot-ball team left for Lynchburg to-day to play Bellevue High-School.

Mr. Roger Brooke Adams and bride (see Johnson) returned this afternoon from their wedding tour.

A wealthy student of the University of Virginia on Thursday night handed to Mr. R. E. Lee, a letter-carrier of this city, a check for $10,000, and the check has been forwarded for collection. The

CHARLOTTESVILLE.

Gift was a handsome token of friendship.

The donor said this morning that the transaction was genuine. Both parties to the transaction desired to avoid publicity.

Allegiance convention will be held in Gordonsville, beginning next Tuesday. This convention embraces the counties of Louisa, Orange, Albemarle, Madison, and Greene, and its members are the Rev. F. W. Neve, Ivy Depot, president; the Rev. E. V. Jones, Clamont, secretary; the Rev. J. R. Ellis, Gordonsville, treasurer, and the Revs. H. B. Lee, of this city; John S. Hamsbrough, Orange; R. C. Cowling, Madison Courthouse, and W. H. Laird, of Scottsville.

SUSPECTED SCHOONER SAILS.

Her Destination Is Said to Be Norfolk.

LEWES, DEL., October 16.—The schooner Donna T. Briggs, which arrived here several days ago, with a cargo of coal, from Norfolk, for the Delaware Fertilizer Company, sailed seaward this morning, and it was said that her destination is Norfolk, and that she would there take on a cargo of shells. The vessel is under suspicion of having carried a cargo of ammunition to the Cuban insurgent army, in conjunction with the tug Somers & Smith, from Punta Gorda, Fla. The schooner was boarded here on Thursday by United-States-Deputy-Marshal Shaw, but the result of his investigation has not been disclosed. Nothing contraband, however, was found on board the vessel.

Fire in Cotton Ship.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 16.—Fire was discovered in hold No. 2 of the British steamship Ida to-night. The vessel had been cleared, with 12,000 bales of upland cotton, for Bremen. She was to sail in the morning. The fire has been confined to one compartment, which contains only 2,000 bales.

SCALCHI AT THE ACADEMY.

The Noted Singer Will Be Here Tuesday—A New Farce Comedy.

Madame Sofia Scalchi, the well-known contralto, will be at the Academy on Tuesday night at the head of an operatic and concert organization, which includes such well-known artists as Mlle. Marie Toulouguet, Mlle. Marie de Bedat, Signor M. Guarini, Signor Achille Alberti, and Signor V. Gailia. The programme includes the fourth act of "Il Trovatore."

crelia Borgini; Oscar, "Masked Ball"; Cherubino, "Marriage of Figaro." "The Captain of the Nonsuch," a new farce comedy, by Colonel J. F. Milliken, the author of "Pink Dominoes," will be the attraction on Wednesday, and until the end of the week, with matinees on Thursday and Saturday: William Bonnell and Rose Stahl head the cast. The story of the play turns upon the ability of a bogus sea captain by the most astounding audacity to explain his frequent and extended visits to the apartments of a noted actress to his young wife. The regular rehearsal of the Wednesday Club has been postponed this week on account of the appearance here of Madame Scalchi. The next rehearsal will take place on Tuesday evening, October 20th.

Mr. Carl J. Blenner, formerly of Richmond, but now of the Sherwood Studio, New York, is visiting relatives at No. 316 east Marshall street. Mr. Blenner has gained quite a reputation as a portrait painter. He is a graduate of Yale, and studied art in Germany and France. While in Paris he was a student of Bougereau, in the Julian Academy.
